

Leadership Apprenticeships:

Comprehensive, Funded & Delivering Real Impact

Organisations are using apprenticeships to build confident, capable leaders – accessing long-term development programmes with funds they have already set aside or are entitled to claim. Taken together, we sum up the opportunity through three clear employer benefits:

COMPREHENSIVE

Evidence suggests managers feel underprepared for the breadth of their roles: 36% feel unprepared for the people management and nearly half (47%) feel overwhelmed by the routine responsibilities their role encompasses.

By the end of their learning journey, Level 3 apprentices have touched on 47 different knowledge areas, skills and behaviours...

...and Level 5 leaders have covered 52!

P.S. This broad coverage means we can include a CMI Certificate for our learners as added value!

IMPACTFUL

Research into Generation Y's learning styles and ability to develop the competencies needed for modern work drew three main conclusions... through programmes of "work-integrated learning", people developed:

A clearer and more meaningful sense of identity, and enhanced senses of self-confidence and self-efficacy.

A more consistent ability to transfer highly-desirable skills (e.g. problem solving & creative thinking) into the workplace.

A greater capacity for reflection and ability to use it to identify and question assumptions in their work.

FUNDED

The Growth & Skills Levy represents either:

Funds your organisation has already put to one side, or...
...easily-accessible funding your organisation is entitled to!

Whilst 34% of HR leaders see 'financial constraints' as a barrier to providing L&D for their managers, don't miss out on the chance to fully fund an accredited leadership development solution.
